EXAMINER'S AMENDMENT

1. An examiner's amendment to the record appears below. Should the changes and/or additions be unacceptable to applicant, an amendment may be filed as provided by 37 CFR 1.312. To ensure consideration of such an amendment, it MUST be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee.

Authorization for this examiner's amendment was given in a telephone interview with Mr. Thomas M. Cunningham on 03/22/04.

The application has been amended as follows:

IN THE CLAIMS

In claim 13, lines 9-12, "wherein both sides of the polyvinyl alcohol polymer film are dried to form a film in two stages of said first drying surface and a subsequent second drying surface or in more stages, while one side of the film being dried by the first drying surface and the other side of the film being dried by the second drying surface, and" has been deleted and "and contacting said polyvinyl alcohol polymer film with a second drying surface, wherein both sides of the polyvinyl alcohol polymer film are dried in two or more stages and one side of the film is dried by the first drying surface and the other side of the film is dried by the second drying surface, and" has been inserted in its stead so as to engender claim language clarity.

2. The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance: After further consideration coupled with Counsel's persuasive arguments, the instantly claimed invention is deemed allowable over the prior art of record, JP 05337967, meritorious of the closest prior art, as per reasons clearly set forth in the REMARKS section of the Amendment filed on 02/24/04. Further, one having ordinary skill in the art would not have been endowed with any motivation to extrapolate, from any of the prior art of record, the precisely defined method of producing a polyvinyl alcohol film, a polyvinyl alcohol polymer film therefrom, polarization film therefrom and liquid crystal display derived therefrom, as claimed, with any reasonable expectation of success.
